Letter to W. A. Boyce.

Barre, Vt.

Dear Sir: If our agent charges you 10 cents more for a gallon of paint than somebody else, don't think he is making more profit; we charge him more; it costs us more. It is all paint, true paint, and full-measure.

No other paint is all paint, true paint, and full-measure, so far as we know. That is wrong. We know some that are pure and full-measure, but weak, thin, too much oil and too little lead-and-zinc; an honest sort of weakness; don't know any better, may be.

It amounts to this: so far as we know, and we think we know the whole American trade, there is no other name but Devco that stands for all paint, full-measure and right proportion. That's why it takes less gallons and wears longer.

Yours truly,

F. W. Devco & Co.

P. S.—Reynolds & Son sell our paint.

Dr. Parkhurst is ill.

New York, Sept. 25.—Rev. Dr. Charles H. Parkhurst, who returned to this city on the Celtic, was confined to his cabin with a severe cold. He was removed from the pier to his home in a carriage. His throat is so affected that he can hardly speak above a whisper.

Fire Loss at Steel Works.

Bethlehem, Pa., Sept. 25.—A fire caused by furnace sparks completely destroyed the structural building at the Bethlehem Steel works, together with the paint, car, carpenter and pattern shops. The loss will probably reach $250,000.

TOO LATE FOR CLASSIFICATION.

MONTPELIER.

Wendell Phillips Garrison, editor of the New York Nation, and son of William Lloyd Garrison, the famous anti-slavery agitator, was in the city over Friday night. Mr. Garrison, accompanied by D. McG. Means of Middlebury, walked from that town to this city. The route taken carried the gentlemen through Hancock, Granville, Warren, Waitsfield and Northfield. While in the city they called on Rev. J. Edward Wright, who is a personal friend of Mr. Garrison. The gentlemen left on the morning train Saturday on the return journey to Middlebury.

Vesuvius in Eruption.

Naples, Sept. 25.—The population of this city is somewhat alarmed by the increased eruption of Mount Vesuvius. Many foreigners, including a large number of Americans, have been attracted to Naples by the outbreak of the volcano. Service on the Funicular railway has been suspended, the operation of the road being considered unsafe. The eruption is accompanied by earthquakes, which are felt to a distance of twenty miles, and stones are thrown out to a height of 1,500 feet. The director of the observatory has declared that the eruption has not yet become dangerous.

Jefferson Will Not Play Again.

Chicago, Sept. 25.—Professor William Castle, brother-in-law of Joseph Jefferson, has received information regarding the great actor's health, which indicates an extreme improbability that Jefferson will ever be seen on the stage again. In a letter to Professor Castle Mrs. Jefferson says that Mr. Jefferson is very ill and that she believes he has made his last appearance before the public. All of Mr. Jefferson's engagements have been canceled.

Not Behind Europe in Mail Matters.

Paris, Sept. 25.—First Assistant Postmaster General Wynne, who has sailed for New York, has been making observations of the postal systems of London and Paris with the view of comparison with and application to the systems of New York and other American cities if advisable. He says the American collection and delivery of mail are fully equal to and in many respects superior to those of European cities.
